Autodesk Inventor 2018 32bit Cracked.The White House is asking tech companies to help investigators with information on online content hosting as authorities in Germany are working to find who is behind a plot to bomb U.S. targets there. And they need help. "If anyone has information about who is responsible for a failed attempt to bomb an airline in Germany on Friday, we ask that you help us identify and locate that person or persons," said Foy, director of the U.S. National Counterterrorism Center. "We are also asking for information from the public about potential suspicious activity," he added. More information on the plot is under way, but U.S. officials say they do not think it is linked to terrorism. Foy said the explosives device failed to detonate but it was being analyzed. Meanwhile, in Germany, the threat level has been raised to four, authorities said
