A: The error is caused by the loader being unable to load either the plugin libraries or any of the plugins within those libraries. You should be able to resolve the issue by downloading and reinstalling the plugin libraries that were already installed. Download a plugin from the Cakewalk website: From the Cakewalk website, download the plugin(s) you desire. Install them into the Applications folder. Re-start the computer and the Sonar 6 PRO should be working. Your Plugins folder should look like this on Windows: Excellent essay regarding the mental fortitude which comes with being an independent author. Thanks for sharing. I only started being an independent author two years ago myself, so I can relate to this feeling. The hardest part about being an independent author is that there is very little support for the effort. People just don't see the value of having an author's name on a work. The only thing they know is when they see the name of the publisher and the author's name is often mixed up. Sometimes I just wish that we could have a logo similar to the one used by
